

it's Aloha time

as you just made a trip around the world at nhow Amsterdam RAI we now arrive at a new location; the Moana Bar inspired by the TIKI Culture.

are you ready to taste a drink from tropical paradise?

Yes? Us too!

but first why are you called moana, actually?

moana bar

moana means
“from the ocean in Hawaiian language”

We created a fusion TIKI bar as our hotel and Amsterdam are a fusion of different cultures.

We don't base our menu solely on Rum, in fact we use liquors from all around the world, mainly following TIKI style flavors.

But in case TIKI is not your style, feel free to ask about your favorite classic.

in for a history lesson about the TIKI culture?

TIKI is a Bar concept born in America in the 1930's which became a culture associated with Hawaii.

It is based mainly on Rum and uses a lot of juices, syrups, spices and fruity garnishes.

There are 2 important names in the TIKI history:

Don the Beachcomber (Ernest Raymond Gantt is his real name), Mixologist and father of the TIKI movement and the creator of the Zombie cocktail.

Traders Vic (Victor Jules Bergeron), business man who helped to extend the TIKI culture around USA and creator of the MAI TAI cocktail.
